BILLYE BRIM MINISTRIES POST.

SPRING 2017 EDITION

Greetings Partners! The first two months of this year have flown by as we had the opportunity of hosting back-to-back meetings with Branden Brim and Chip Brim. Here is an excerpt from Chip's service in Kelowna, March 2017.

"A Covenant minded person knows how to operate in the Courts of Heaven. They are confident in what God has spoken and what is written in the Word. They are not afraid to stand on their Covenant rights and to speak what God has spoken about any situation.

God has a book of destiny about each one of us. It was written before the beginning of time (Ps. 139:16). It contains God's plan for our lives, and this is what Satan is trying to stop by bringing accusations against us. If Satan is able to stop a person's God-ordained destiny from happening, then it will affect or delay the destinies of other peoples, nations, and generations, and ultimately, God's master plan for this earth.

Repentance is a legal term in the courts of Heaven, and it puts a 'gag order' on the Accuser. We humble ourselves to the will of God by repenting, and He is able then to lift us up. God's desire is to bless us, but Satan uses our shortcomings as a legal obstruction to get between us and God's will for us. When our account is wiped clean through repentance, the Accuser has no more legal right to bring our mistakes before God. This is one of the benefits of our Covenant, when we align ourselves to God's will.

When we align ourselves to God's will, Satan no longer has anything with which to accuse us before God.

God sits as Judge in the Courts of Heaven, and Praise be to God, it is not the end if we mess up and get off the path that God has ordained for us to walk. God is better than any GPS. He sees farther ahead, and He knows what roadblocks and mountains lay before us. He has given each of us the power and resources necessary to make it to our destiny; and if we get off track, He already has a new path laid out for us. Nothing catches Him by surprise and He is patient and tender toward us no matter where we find ourselves. His plan for us does not change simply because we make a mistake; God is able to lead us out of whatever mess we are in, to His perfect will - if we choose to follow His leading.

Where we are spiritually, and in fulfilling our pre-ordained destiny, is product of our choices; choices to follow God's way or our own way. Our decision not to follow God is what brings suffering and discontentment into our lives and those around us. Through the Covenant, however, God has endowed us with the power of repentance, which enables us to get back on track with His plan. Repentance is a powerful precedent in the courts of Heaven. Not only does it bring us into alignment with the will of God, it also wipes out all record of wrongs we have committed.

we have the privilege to come and present our case before Him without fear. Because of the Covenant we have with Him through the shed Blood of Jesus, we can boldly approach our Judge, knowing that He is for us, not against us. He is not looking to condemn us (Rom. 3:26), even if we have done something wrong. Rather, we get to come into Court, repent, and declare what is already written, in our book of destiny."
